DETAILED ACTION

Priority

In item 10 of the application transmittal filed March 31, 2004, applicant has not indicated whether the application is a continuation or division.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Baudlot et al. In Figures 6 and 7, Baudlot et al discloses the spark plug 38 on the intake valve side and the injector 42 on the exhaust valve side.

Claims 1, 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chmela et al. Double-jet or porous injection hole injector 13 is located on the intake valve side and spark plug 14 is located on the exhaust valve side, as shown in Figure 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 5 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3747

The direct injection engine made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
